To Our Gardening Friends -

The garden of your dreams, to look its best all through the season, needs a succession of beautiful bloom. We have tried to list in our catalog a good choice of materials to help you attain this garden of your dreams.

As we have many things not listed here, you are invited to come in and browse around at any time.

The Daylilies make their best showing in July, but there is some bloom from late May until freezing weather. And we have a variety of other interesting displays throughout the season. Tulip time here is followed by Iris time, with splashes of Oriental Poppies. Phlox are colorful in late June and into August, and from September until frost the Mum fields make a brilliant show.

We are located on U. S. Highway 131, 3 miles south of Grand Rapids city limits, which is at the junction of U. S. 16 bypass and 131. Coming from the south we are 4 blocks north from where the four-lane highway starts.

Daylilies - (Hemerocallis)

The Daylily is the most versatile of perennials, and can be used in all parts of your garden, for bloom all through the growing season. They can furnish shades of yellow, orange and brown with your Iris in late spring. They can be planted all through the perennial border to furnish shades of cream and gold, the sunshine colors, during the entire season. They can make bold splashes of orange, flame and shades of red against evergreens or shrubbery where you wish to make an accent point. Or you may have a garden of Daylilies by themselves, in all their lovely shades.

CULTURE: The Daylilies will grow in any good garden soil and are very drought resistant. However, they do appreciate plenty of moisture and nourishment. They will grow and bloom in partial shade, but should have sun for half a day, as too deep shade will cause weak stems and fewer blooms. They should be left undisturbed over a period of years, as they do not give their best performance until the second or third year. So they should be spaced from two to three feet apart to permit increase in size of clumps. Spread the roots out well when planting, and firm the soil down well. Well-rotted manure or compost with bone meal will be appreciated if incorporated in the soil while planting, and peat moss is also found to be beneficial.

Our prices are for blooming size plants. Daylilies will be shipped in the spring, or in late summer and fall.
